

2019.01.07 - 2019.01.18

Seoul National University
Human Rights Center

6th International Winter Course

Human Rights and Asia

Special Theme:
Economic and Social Rights

Overview

- The Course designed to promote a better understanding of human rights issues in Asia
- An opportunity to have multidimensional approach to human rights through presentations, discussions and visiting to human rights organizations

Eligibility

- Post graduate students, researchers, activists, lawyers, national and international civil servants from all around the world who demonstrate a high level of interest in human rights and Asia
- Fluency in oral and written English

The number of participants to be accepted about 20

Application Deadline

Fri, 12 Oct 2018, 18:00 (Korea Standard Time: GMT +09:00)

For more information, visit

<http://hrc.snu.ac.kr/en/courses/asia/2019>

Program

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights and Asia

UN Human Rights Norms and Processes

Transnational Understanding of Human Rights

Forging Consensus on Human Rights Norms for Regional Human Rights Systems in Asia

Economic and Social Rights

Human Rights Responsibility of Corporations

Gender Equality and Women's Socio-Economic Rights

The Role of Public Interest Litigation in Advocating Economic and Social Rights

Gender Inequality in Global Health and Women's Health Rights

Refugees and Socio-Economic Rights